Telegraph to the Pacific.

We are daily admonished of the need of a communication to the Pacific by telegraphic wires. The long and tedious travel now imposed upon General Scott might be saved the old hero if we could "pull the wires."

The Mechanics' Institute.

If, during this week, in addition to the attraction of the aurora borealis, our readers should hear strange, musical sounds in the air—Yankee Doodle, Pop Goes the Weasel, and other like tunes—they can attribute it to no other source than the steam calliope at the Mechanics' Institute. A platform is being arranged from two of the windows in the basement—mechanical department of the exhibition—of Pike's Opera-house, into an open court fifty feet square, where the steam musical instrument is located. This novelty will attract large numbers to this otherwise attractive exhibition. The committee have provided the citizens with the most interesting displays, and the public should estimate their opportunities by improving them in attendance. The music will play morning, afternoon and night.

House of Representatives—Jos. Jonas, John Schell, Patrick Rogers and William J. Flagg, of the city; J. F. Wright, William S. Jessup and Dr. William Jones, of the country.

State Board of Equalization—J. Dan Jones and Israel Brown, of the country, and Dr. John L. Vattler, of the city.

Judge of Common Pleas—Isaac C. Collins, city.

County Commissioner—John N. Ridgway, city.

Director of County Infirmary—Samuel Benn, country.

The News.

The steamship Arabia is reported to be signaled at Halifax, but her news—five days later—are not at hand. No signs of the steamer Nova Scotia, now due. The latest dates from Victoria and the island of San Juan are those of the 23d of August. The U. S. steamer Manacomet had landed military supplies on the island. The State Fair at Zanesville opens successfully. Gov. N. P. Banks, of Massachusetts, has been unanimously re-nominated by the Republicans. JOSEPH W. TROSTON is now on trial in the Criminal Court of St. Louis for killing the well-known citizen of that place, JOSEPH CHARLES, Esq. A person named BENJ. F. GILMAN, claiming to be a native of Ohio, has confessed to horse-stealing, near Booneville, Mo., and has been sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years. At St. Joseph, Mo., a brutal murder has been committed by Mrs. Wain and an Irishman, upon a negro girl. Her body was covered with marks of cruelty. The parties absconded. Com. Mason, of the U. S. sloop-of-war John Adams, on her voyage to the East Indies, finding that the vessel was, from leakage, unfit to proceed, bore away to Rio de Janeiro, where he awaits orders from the Navy Department.

Death of an Aged Methodist Preacher.

Rev. Jacob Yorgo died suddenly on Friday afternoon, at the residence of his son, near Columbus. He had attained a good old age. Most of his life he has devoted to preaching as a minister and elder of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He was admitted on trial October 2, 1802, when the Western Conference was held at Cumberland, Tennessee. His first station, 1803, was at "Barren," in the Cumberland District. Not a single associate of his, members of that conference, perhaps, survives. In 1804 he was stationed at "Wilderness," in the Holston District. He was admitted into full connection at the Western Conference, at Mt. Gerisim, Kentucky, October 2, 1804, and was assigned to the station of Muskingum and Kanawha, of which WILLIAM BURKE was Presiding Elder. 1805—to Limestone or Mayesville, in Kentucky District, of which Father BURKE was Presiding Elder. 1807—at Nashville, in Cumberland District, of which WILLIAM MCKENRICK was Presiding Elder. 1808—he was himself appointed Presiding Elder of the Mississippi District. 1809—at West Wheeling, Virginia, in Muskingum District. Fifty years ago, on the 30th of this month, the Western Conference met in Cincinnati, and JACOB YORGO was returned to West Wheeling Station. We believe there survives none of the preachers of that day, except perhaps one, not now in the ministry. It would be curious, as an illustrative example of the Methodist itinerancy, to note the different fields of labor to which this veteran preacher has been assigned, always adhering to the Western or Ohio Conference, except in 1811, when he was assigned to Redstone, in the Monongahela District of the Baltimore Conference, and in 1812, when he was Presiding Elder of Ohio District, in the same conference. In 1813, 1814 and 1815 he was Presiding Elder of Ohio District, in Ohio Conference; 1816, 1817, 1818 and 1819—Presiding Elder of Muskingum District; 1820—stationed at West Wheeling, Virginia; 1821—Presiding Elder of Lancaster District; 1822—Presiding Elder of Muskingum District; 1823, 1824, 1825 and 1826—Presiding Elder of Lancaster District; 1827—stationed at Columbus; 1828—Pickaway; 1829—Fairfield; 1830—Marietta; 1831—transferred to Pittsburgh Conference, and assigned to West Liberty, Virginia; 1832—returned to Ohio Conference; 1833—Rushville; 1834—with L. L. HAMLIN at Athens; 1835—Athens; 1836, 1837, 1838 and 1839—Presiding Elder of Columbus District; 1840—Lithopolis; 1841—Rushville; 1842—London; 1843—New Richmond; 1844—North Bend. He continued in active service in other stations until near the time of his death.

Editorial and Selected Melange.

To-day is St. Matthew's day. Friday and Saturday are Ember days.

There is a passage opened along the walls on each side of Smith & Nixons' Hall, which is an arrangement long needed.

Rev. C. K. Marshall, of Miss., has patented an invention to address newspapers—eight thousand an hour—which is pronounced to be a success, and cheap.

The eleventh annual fair of the Clermont County Agricultural Society opens next Tuesday, the 27th inst., at Olive Branch, in Clermont County, and continues during the week.

Mr. Faran, our Postmaster, has received inclosed to his address, a photograph of child and mother. The only direction inclosed is to deliver it only to the husband of the lady. A Daguerrotype was previously remitted, without address, and it was called for by a gentleman stopping at the Burnet House.

"We, Bell," is CLEVELAND—Bell's Life in London says: "It is something for America to say with truth, 'We have Paul Murphy, a boy of twenty-two, who can give paw and move to every other player in the world; and large as the world is, this we, Bell, honestly believe the boy can do."

There were three Vice Presidents of the United States Agricultural Society present at Chicago, who had never partaken of ardent spirits, or had been addicted to use of tobacco. One of them was Freeman G. Cary, editor of the Cincinnati, an agricultural periodical of interest, published in this county, at College Hill.

Mr. Everett delivered an eloquent address on Webster, at the inauguration of the Webster Statue in Boston on the 17th of September, the occasion of great celebrations in that city. The present one was the two hundred and twenty-ninth anniversary of the settlement of Boston.

The editor of the Noblesville (Ind.) Herald had to dispatch from Indianapolis to his own village, a distance of twenty miles, and wait the return, for a marriage license. His happy bride and joyous company all assembled to attest with well-known ceremonies, the interesting event, had to wait the due course of mail. Editors must be posted.

Latta, of our city, will exhibit, to-morrow, at Evansville, Indiana, one of his Steam Fire Engines, with expectation of selling the same. The Daytonians have a peep at it to-day. We trust Dayton will find it to her interest to secure one of these reformatory institutions. They save a great deal of demoralization of youth, attendant on the independent fire engine organization.

The collections at Postoffices for the Washington Monument is not extraordinarily heavy: Wheeling, Virginia, sent $18, and Putnam, Ohio, $10; few cities sent more. The present generation will all be in their graves before this ill-designed stone structure will be erected. The only instrumentality that can consummate the work will be that of American women.

The Illinois Central Railroad, appreciating the merits of Pawnee's Patent Steam Plow, and their own interests, have ordered six machines, to plow the lands they sell to small farmers. The Company propose to break up for these new beginners their prairie lands at sixty cents per acre. That is a noble incident of corporation character.

An important direct trade is expected to be carried on with the interior of the United States, from England, through the Dayton and Michigan Railroad to Detroit, and over the Grand Turk Railroad of Canada and the Montreal and Liverpool line of steamers. Goods to reach island markets in bond, the Government duties to be prepaid by railroad company, and follow shipment as charges—Cincinnati to be a prominent center for this direct trade.

The terms on which the eleven English cricketers visit this country are: the payment of all their expenses from starting to returning, and $200 besides. These noted cricketers are liberally supported by members of Parliament and other gentlemen. The N. Y. Tribune calls the expected professional players "The eleven Apostles," on a proselyting mission of the utmost importance, perhaps not thought of by them. It cordially recommends the game as more material to our national necessities than the game of chess.

Two SKRIVONERS.—Mr. David S. Hunt, of this city, has a sister, Mrs. Mary Van Vechten, born at Albany, and still residing at Louisville, Ky., which has been her home since 1818, who was a passenger on the Clermont, on her trial trip from New York to Albany. The Albany Journal, in announcing the death of the Dean of Rippon, of England, says, that there now resides in Albany the only surviving cabin passenger who made the first trip with Robert Fulton by steam on the North River. As that paper is mistaken, and there are at least two survivors, allow us to introduce Hon. John Q. Wilson to Mrs. Mary Van Vechten.

Good Thing for the Seventeenth Ward.

This portion of our city has long been kept back by the devotion of its main avenue to constant occupation by omnibuses and every class of vehicles. We believe that a well-ordered street railroad will lessen these obstructions and increase the value of property. It has been fortunate for the Seventeenth Ward that the Pendleton Railroad Company has secured its franchise on terms so agreeable to the residents along the line and to the Company. We believe that the generous policy recently pursued by the Little Miami Railroad Company has tended to the kind relations now existing. An iron track hereafter has been an exasperation to the people, instead of being, as it now is, a bond of union. Stock has been liberally subscribed by residents of Fulton, and the people await the commencement of street railroad transit with much interest. $50,000 more will complete their capital stock. We hope that some cars may be constructed especially to accommodate the baskets replenished to fullness at our markets, which the women of Fulton bear to their homes on their return from the city proper.

A NOVELTY IN FASHION.—Among the novelties recently introduced in ladies' apparel is a new article of underwear. They bear resemblance to those worn by gentlemen, except that they are made of delicate white elastic fabric, with frilled edge, about one inch wide, and are attached to the skirt by buttons in like manner.

A PRIZE WORTH HAVING.—Dr. Philip Van New Morris, of Cambridge, N. Y., a graduate of the class of 1813, at the late commencement of William College, presented that institution with a donation of $10,000.

Hamilton, our Butler County Neighbor.

Notwithstanding the improvements Hamilton has made, the progressive introduction of valuable hydraulic works, which give her great rank as a manufacturing town, we can not, in wishing her God-speed in the career of an anticipated greatness, but remember her as the pioneer village. It was sixty-eight years ago this month that Fort Hamilton was built in the wilderness, as the first link of a chain of stockaded forts on a line West from Cincinnati or Fort Washington. It was built by General ST. CLAIR, but two months previous to the disastrous defeat of 1791. We revive an incident of tragic interest in the early history of Hamilton, which, although it has passed into history, is not current in the every-day stories of the present generation. No one now remembers, and few have heard, of the sad story of SARA BLISS, the only son of a widowed mother, of New York, who, with a party of six, deserted from Fort Hamilton in the fall of 1792, and reached the Ohio River, a short distance below the site of the present city of Louisville, but with his colleagues, GALLERIE, JOHN BROWN, and four others, were returned by General CLARK to the arbitrary and tyrannical officer, Major RUTLEDGE, then Commander of the troops.

The returned deserters were tried by a court-martial; the three names above were sentenced to be hung, two were to run the gauntlet, Indian style, and the remaining two for a stipulated period to be imprisoned, loaded with heavy irons. Five hundred soldiers, it is said, were drawn up in arms around the fatal spot, to witness the exit of their unfortunate comrades. The sufferers were young men of spirit and handsome appearance, in the opening bloom of life, with their long hair floating over their shoulders. JOHN BROWN was forbidden by his parents to wed the girl he loved, and he took to the saddle, and became a dragoon in the wilds of the West, but from harsh treatment he felt constrained to desert. On the gallows he alluded to his cruel oppressor. The rope that was fastened about SARA BLISS's neck slipped, and he struggled in great pain until his neck was broken. If the execution had been delayed a few hours, a reprieve from Gen. WILKINSON would have saved these young men from their tragic fate.

Horticulture and Mechanics.

EDITHA PENNY PRESS: A stranger visiting your city to attend the Mechanical and Horticultural Festivals is surprised at the total want of consideration by its municipal authorities in providing some permanent and central location for their regular exhibitions. Like our State Fairs, they have become perpetuated by the accumulated dirt and filth. Why can not some sensible man in your Council—no doubt they are all sensible men—bring forward an ordinance providing for the erection of a light, well-arranged hall—the space below to be used for the daily sale of fruit and flowers—always the first objects of inquiry by strangers. What a beautiful sight in the spring would be the show of the latter, which we could admire without being forced into the gutters of Broadway and Walnut. Let the straw-berry display—how many strangers are attracted by this alone.

All this needs only the slightest allusion. There is one argument that will have its influence, as no doubt the investment will pay. Property-holders on Fifth would rejoice in it, and the tax-payers say "amen." As the building need not be wide, no obstruction of light could be urged—no "vested rights" invaded—an absolute nuisance removed. The Floral and Mechanical Hall would be something to be proud of. Why not have it?

"Little Eva."

The result of the inquiry in the New York Court, instituted on Abena corpus by the father, will not be reached yet for a week. The following is a copy of the indenture proved in the Court:

The indenture of apprenticeship between Francis Whitten, of the city of Cincinnati, master of Hamilton, and State of Ohio, father of Eva Bell Whitten, on the one part, and Martha Pollock, of the same place, of the other part, witnesseth: that the said Eva Bell Whitten, aged two years on the 11th of December, A. D. 1834, is hereby bound as an apprentice unto the said Martha Pollock, from the date hereof, until the 11th of December, A. D. 1871, and is faithfully to serve the said Martha Pollock, and is to observe and perform toward the said Martha Pollock all the obligations and duties to a parent, and correctly to demean herself during the term of her apprenticeship. And the said Martha Pollock does hereby covenant that she will provide the said Eva Bell Whitten, during said apprenticeship, with board, lodging, medicine, washing, clothing, and all other necessities suitable for an apprentice, and will teach, or cause her to be taught, to read and write, and also the first four rules of arithmetic, and, at the expiration of said term of service, will furnish the said Eva Bell Whitten a new Bible, and two new suits of wearing apparel. In testimony whereof, the parties have hereunto set their hands and seals this 5th day of August, A. D. 1836.

FRANCIS WHITTEN, [s. e.]
MARTHA POLLOCK, [s. e.]
Attest, D. K. CADY.

WEBSTER AND CROCKETT.—No two characters, says the Memphis Bulletin, could be more dissimilar than those of Webster and Crockett. One had penetrated to the profound depths of the forest, and was a passionate lover of its wild delights. Crockett paid Webster a compliment that both pleased and amused him. It is related that when his celebrated speech upon Foote's resolutions was published, he sent a copy of it to Davy Crockett. Shortly afterward Davy called upon him to make his acknowledgments for the favor—remarking that it was the only speech he had ever been able to read without the aid of a dictionary. Mr. Webster, it is said, frequently remarked that although, perhaps, a compliment was not intended, none was ever bestowed upon him that he valued so highly.

THE LARGEST GATE IN THE WORLD.—A monster gate for the Saint Louis. Marie Canal is nearly completed at Newport, thirty-five miles above this city. It is eighty-two feet wide, (that being the width of the canal), thirty-one and a-half feet deep, and thirty-two inches thick. The timber used in its construction, cut into inch boards, would measure about one hundred and forty thousand feet. It is believed to be the largest gate in the world. If there is any doubt on this point, its weight, from the immense quantity of iron attached to it, will throw all competitors in the shade, there being about forty tons of iron used in binding it. It will be finished some time this week, when it will be taken to pieces and sent forward to its destination.—Detroit Tribune.

The murderer of the young man, supposed to be N. Manning, near Piqua, was arrested on Sunday. His name is Denoy, and he admits killing Manning, but alleges that it was in self-defense. They came together from California, where Manning had been successful, while Denoy was not, and he paid D's passage to this State. They were both natives of Miami County. Denoy is now in jail at Troy, in that county.

THE ARABIA AT HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, September 20.
The steamship Arabia from Liverpool on the 10th inst., is understood to have been signaled at Halifax at three o'clock this afternoon, but the Nova Scotia line having closed, we are compelled to wait until the steamer Express has the news, which will be due here at an early hour to-morrow.

Overland immigration continued to pour in. Much suffering was reported on the plains among the broken-down Pike's Ponkers. A large number of emigrants were stopping at Albers River and other gold-diggings east of the Sierra Nevada.

Honolulu, July 30.

The American whaler Twilight, of New Bedford, was wrecked on one of the Marquesas Islands, Jan. 19. Loss $45,000. Crew saved.

New discoveries of guano had been made at Independence Island.

Victoria papers of the 23d ult. say that five companies of infantry and four companies of artillery, with a battery of eight thirty-two pounders from the United States steamer Assachusetts, had landed on San Juan Island.

The House of Assembly, on the 12th ult., adopted an address to Governor Douglas, urgently requesting him to enforce upon the English Government the necessity of demanding from the Government of the United States, not only the immediate withdrawal of all troops, but strenuously and at all risks maintain her right to the Island, and, on other islands in the Archipelago, "now claimantly, dishonorably and dishonestly invaded."

A motion was also adopted, urging the Governor to form volunteer military companies. All was quiet at the latest date.

The shipments of gold at Victoria for the previous fortnight amounted to $144,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 28.
There is a spontaneous movement in Candies and Provision: 19,000 boxes Adamantine Candles sold during the week at 18¢@20¢. Pork—$17.50@18 for mess, and clear $20. Bacon 12¢@13¢. Lard 12¢@14¢. Sugar—New Orleans 10¢; crushed 11¢. Rice and Tens buoyant. A moderate amount of goods is going into the interior.

New York Financial Matters.

New York, September 20—P. M.
The Stock Exchange continues to exhibit considerable activity, with remarkable firmness in several of the leading speculative shares. The interest of the market still centers in the Railroad stocks, which are stimulated by the reports of increasing business. The market, on the whole, was hardly so firm as yesterday, although New York Central was maintained at full prices, realizing at one time an advance of 4¢ per cent.

The Western stocks generally were offered more freely, and lower prices were established. Galena fell off ¼; Rock Island ¾, and Toledo 1; the Michigan Roads each ¼; Pacific Mail also declined ¼; Reading ¼; Erie and Hudson unchanged. New York Central closed at 81½@81½, with little stock pressing on the market. In Railroad stock there was an improvement of 1½ in Erie Fourth Mortgages and ¼ in New York Central Bonds of 1870. The State stocks are in moderate demand, and prices firm.

In financial matters the feeling is scarcely so comfortable, the firmness in Exchange, together with the strong export demand for gold, not being without its influence. The price of Money has undergone no noticeable alteration; the market continues to show great freedom of supply. Exchange on Europe closed firm at 110½@110½ for sterling, and 51½@51½ for francs; at eight, francs have been bid at 51¼@51½. The estimate of the shipment of bullion, on Saturday, by the Emperor and Ocean Queen, has increased to $2,000,000. The receipts of the New York Central Road for September are expected to reach $750,000, an increase of 100,000 over the same month last year.

Naval Intelligence.

New York, September 20.
Advices from Rio de Janeiro to July 9 state that the United States ship Leontine, Commander Hunt, arrived after a voyage of thirty-nine days from Boston, and sailed again seven days after her arrival. All well.

The sloop-of-war John Adams, Commander Mason, put in at Rio de Janeiro on the 31st of July, leaking and very much strained, owing to bad weather and the immense weight of her batteries. The John Adams was on her voyage to the East Indies, but the result of a survey held at sea, declaring the vessel to be unfit to proceed to her destination, induced the Commander to bear away for this port. Since her arrival here, and in the absence of any other of our government vessels, an additional survey of some eight or ten of our merchant captains has been held, and they fully coincide with that made by the ships' officers at sea.

Lieutenant D. M. Cohen, of the marines, has been ordered to proceed by this packet as bearer of dispatches to the Secretary of the Navy at Washington.

River News.

LOUISVILLE, September 20, P. M.
River stationary, with two feet three inches in the canal. Weather showery this afternoon. More rain threatened to-night.

Pittsburgh, September 20, P. M.

River seven feet four inches by the pier mark, and about stationary. Weather cloudy.

St. Louis, September 20, P. M.
River rose about three inches at this point on Saturday, stationary Sunday and yesterday, fallen about one inch to-day, but the indications are favorable for a speedy rise, as the late rains have extended throughout the upper country. Nothing new from the upper stream. It has raised here almost constantly since Saturday morning, and the present prospects are for a continuance of wet weather.

Telegraphic.

Boston, September 20.
In the injunction case of the Halifax Telegraph European News Monopoli against the American Telegraph Company, praying in substance that the latter may be compelled to forward the telegraphic reports of the European news in advance of the reports to the Associated Press, the Judge, this morning, refused to grant the motion, but permitted the speculators to proceed, if they please, as in ordinary cases of bills in equity.

Slight occasional showers all day. There is a greater quantity of stock on hand than at any previous fair, a large show of horses and the best and largest display of machinery, engines and agricultural implements ever held in the State. The city is fast filling with strangers, and the weather is clearing up.

From New York.

New York, September 20.
A fire occurred on board the steamboat John Ferns, near Green Point, about four o'clock this morning, which resulted in the destruction of the boat. Loss $20,000. She belonged to the late firm of John Thurnley & Son, corner of Front-street and Peck-slip, who recently made an assignment.
